Barton Anderson

The Rocky Mountain Athletic Trainers Association \(RMATA\) will award the RMATA Distinguished Educator Award to Barton Anderson.

Fountain Hills, AZ April 13, 2019- The Rocky Mountain Athletic Trainers' Association (RMATA) will award the RMATA Distinguished Educator Award to Barton Anderson.

Dr. Anderson is a tenured Associate Professor and Clinical Education Coordinator in the AT Still University Athletic Training Programs. He earned his Bachelor's of Science in Sports Medicine and Athletic Training from Missouri State University, Master's of Science in Sports Health Care from A.T. Still University, and his Doctor of Health Science degree from Nova Southeastern University.

Dr. Anderson oversees all aspects of the Advanced Clinical Practice program (Clinical Education), including establishing and maintaining graduate assistantships, coordinating affiliated clinical sites and preceptors as well as providing clinical mentoring to AT program students. He also teaches clinical courses in both the online Doctor of Athletic Training program and the residential Post-Professional Master's program.

Dr. Anderson has worked as an Athletic Trainer in the collegiate, high school, and clinical settings and continues to practice part time. Dr. Anderson is a member of the CAATE Standards Committee, the NATA Post-Professional Education Committee, and the Chair of the AzATA Communications Committee. In 2016, Dr. Anderson was recognized as the Arizona School of Health Sciences Educator of the Year and in 2018 he received the NATA Service Award.

The Rocky Mountain Athletic Trainers' Association represents and supports members of the athletic training profession located in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. Visit www.rmata.org for more information. Please also visit www.atyourownrisk.org for information concerning athletic trainers and the services they provide.
